Description: “The main body of this coat is worked from side to side, which of course enables the yarn’s variegations to run vertically up your body and lengthen it (as well as your legs-- wear boots!).” This is the coat that you grab as you run out the door and then toss in the backseat of the car as the temperature heats up during the day. The weekend jacket is very loose fitting, and can be closed at the neck, if desired, with a shawl pin, or buttons. This class will help increase your knitting skills and give you more confidence so you can move on to more complex projects.
